Witchcamp is intense, provocative, confrontational, and life altering. We use art, music, mythology, trance states, meditation, and ritual to push the edges of our consensual reality. Our goals are to make room for the transformation of our personal lives and bring about effective cultural change. If you have previously experienced major challenges to your mental health that significantly disrupted your ability to perform the activities of daily life or if you currently take medications prescribed to prevent those mental health disruptions, we believe that Witchcamp may not be a stabilizing environment to support your health and well being.
